Product description

This state-of-the-art LED matrix headlight, specially designed for the Porsche Panamera model 971, is the ideal choice for a replacement or upgrade solution. The headlight, positioned for the right side of the vehicle, carries the OEM numbers 971941040L, 971941040J and 971941040G, ensuring its authenticity and compatibility with specific vehicle models.

The innovative LED matrix technology provides exceptional illumination of the road, which not only increases driving safety at night and in poor weather conditions, but also improves driving comfort. In addition, this headlight is equipped with the Porsche Dynamic Light System Plus (PDLS Plus), which includes adaptive light distribution and dynamic cornering lights. These functions automatically adjust the light distribution to the driving situation, enabling better visibility and thus increased safety. The item is new, unused, undamaged and comes directly from original Porsche parts, which guarantees its quality and durability. Installing this headlight ensures that your Porsche Panamera is not only technically up to date, but also remains visually appealing.

In summary, the Porsche Panamera G2/971 LED Matrix headlight with PDLS Plus on the right-hand side is an excellent investment in the safety and aesthetics of your vehicle, backed by the certainty of using a genuine Porsche original part.
