Product description

This high-quality Porsche PCCB ceramic brake disc for the rear left axle is specially designed for a wide range of Porsche models, including the 996 C4S, Turbo, GT2, GT3, 997 C2S, C4S, Turbo, GT2, GT3, 991 C2S, C4S and Panamera G1 970. The brake disc is made of robust ceramic material, which is known for its durability and exceptional braking performance. The ceramic technology offers improved heat dissipation, resulting in less wear and tear and greater efficiency of the brake system. This is particularly important for vehicles that deliver high performance and are operated under extreme conditions. The brake disc is used but in very good condition and undamaged. It is an original Porsche part, which guarantees additional safety in terms of quality and fit. The OEM numbers for this brake disc are 99135203101, 298615601C, 298615601, 99735203101, 99735203100, 99635203104 and 99635203103. These numbers confirm compatibility with the corresponding vehicle models and make it easier to check before purchase.

Installing a high-quality component such as the Porsche PCCB ceramic brake disc not only contributes to safety, but also helps maintain the value of your vehicle by preserving its original performance and reliability. Ideal for Porsche enthusiasts who do not want to compromise on the maintenance and performance of their vehicle.
